

Week 39

English Mastery

Primary 2

The Write Tribe

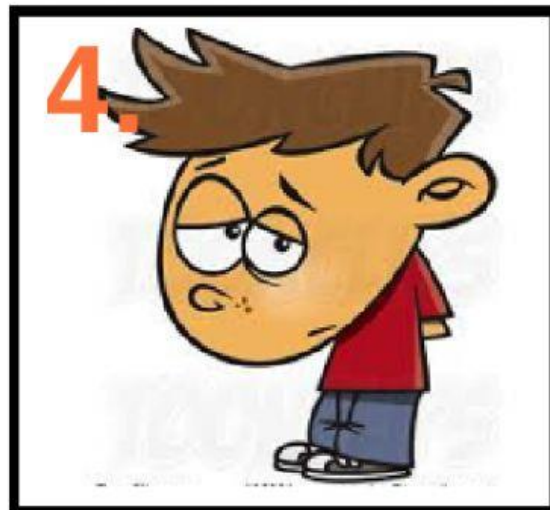

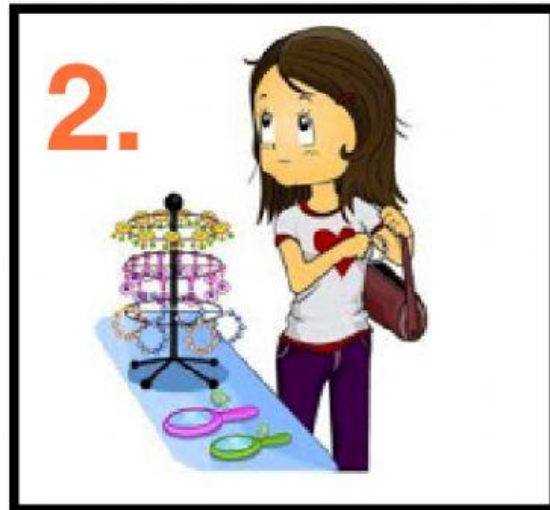

SHOPLIFTING

NAME:

Teacher's comments:

PART 1

SHOPLIFTING

Let's go through the words!

a black mark

ashamed

turn over a new leaf

window-shopping

petrified

escalator

caught red-handed

word/phrase	meaning
a black mark
window-shopping
ashamed

looking at things in a shop without having an intention to buy	something that you have done that spoils your reputation very embarrassed

word/phrase	meaning
turn over a new leaf
escalator
caught red-handed

a moving staircase	to change bad behaviour and become a better person caught in the act of doing something wrong

Fill in the blanks

Shoplifting

a black mark	ashamed	turn over a new leaf window-shopping	petrified	escalator
red-handed

It was a chilly friday afternoon. It had been raining cats and dogs for one week straight. Having nowhere to spend the afternoon, my best friend Joe and I decided to visit the shopping mall. The mall was bustling with activity. I was thrilled to do some 1. _____ and check out the new video games. Joe and I have been friends since kindergarten and we have very similar interests. We were as alike as two peas in a pod. However, little did I know, this particular friday, I would learn something very disturbing about my best friend. FORESHADOW

We went up the 2. _____ to the second floor. Barely able to contain my excitement, I sprinted to the video game store.

rewrite the dialogue with proper punctuation

Oh my god Infinity 2 is finally here I gasped in delight.

a black mark	ashamed	turn over a new leaf
window-shopping	petrified	escalator
red-handed

However, after looking at the price tag, my face drooped. It cost an arm and leg. I put the game back on the shelf.

Why are you putting it away You do know we can keep it Joe said with a smirk on his face

But that's shoplifting I protested

My concerns fell on deaf ears. It was not long after that Joe convinced me that we could never afford a game as pricey as that. In the end, I could not resist the temptation and slipped it into my backpack.

Just as I did that, I felt a heavy hand landing on my shoulder. It was the security guard! I had been caught 3. _____. Joe was nowhere to be found. He had slipped away. I was 4. _____.

My bloodshot eyes widened and my face turned as pale as a sheet.

black mark	ashamed	turn over a new leaf
window-shopping	petrified	escalator
caught red-handed

What do you think you are doing shouted the security guard.

He snarled at me angrily, baring his teeth. I was 5. _____ of my actions. I lowered my eyes and my cheeks turned beet red. My parents were disappointed with my action. I had to face the music and a 6. _____ went down against my name. I promised my parents that I will 7. _____. As for Joe, I never spoke to him again.