

DERRIVATIVES

1. There are a lot of _____ (archeology) sites you can see when you visit Athens.
2. A lot of foreign painters will participate in the _____ (exhibit) at the town hall.
3. Some natural phenomena, such as tsunamis, can be extremely _____ (destroy).
4. All the _____ (science) from our university are attending the conference today.
5. Recent _____ (advanced) in astronomy are helping to reveal new planets.
6. My greatest _____ (accomplish) is that I created my own company.

WORDS EASILY CONFUSED

1. The 2nd World War was a (historical / historic / historian) event that affected a lot of countries.
2. A dictionary is (valuable / invaluable / worthless) to students who learn foreign languages.
3. I'm really interested in the (field / section) of psychology.
4. The (discovery / invention) of the telephone brought about significant changes in communication.
5. You should check that the information you include in your project is (accurate / punctual).
6. Can you (refer / mention) a few examples of endangered species?
7. In her latest novel, the writer (refers / mentions) to her hometown and her childhood.
8. (Historics / Historians) disagree on what this artifact was used for.
9. The (discovery / invention) of electricity made our lives easier.
10. Try to be (accurate / punctual) on your first day at work.
11. This cheque is (worthless / invaluable) unless you sign it.
12. The library has a special (field / section) for young children.