

History of Magic and Care of Magical Creatures: India

A. Read this text and select the correct answers:

Rope Trick  Snake Taming 	In India the center of magic is Mayong. It was always a magical place. “Mayong” means “illusion”. Witches and wizards from Mayong: transformed into animals, tamed monstrous beasts, and turned leaves into fish. But there was no magic against rain or the weather. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● They cured sickness by putting a copper plate on the sick part. (The plate “ate away” the sickness. If it was a very bad sickness, the plate broke). ● They found lost things by putting a spell on a flower (it floated away to where the lost thing was) ● They predicted the future (reading hand palms, and looking at broken glass and seashells) ● The magic words “Luki Mantra” made people disappear. ● The magic words “Uran Mantra” made people fly and land next to their true love. Today there is still magic in Mayong, and every year they have the Mayong-Pobitora Festival, which celebrates animals and magic. India is famous for the Indian Rope Trick (climbing a rope that hangs in the air) and for snake taming.
