

Distinguish compound sentences from complex sentences

Directions: Identify each sentence as compound or complex sentence.

1. Because they have leaves year-round, tropical rain forest trees are evergreen trees.

- a) compound
- b) complex

2. Although you may find this surprising, there are tropical rain forests in Australia.

- a) compound
- b) complex

3. The forest ranger warned the hikers, but they did not listen.

- a) compound
- b) complex

4. After breakfast, the clouds thickened, and a heavy rain fell on the campers.

- a) compound
- b) complex

5. Trees in cloud forest are shorted, and they are deciduous.

- a) compound
- b) complex

6. Whenever she can, Paula makes before sunrise.

- a) compound
- b) complex