

Complete each gap with a relative pronoun, if it can be omitted write -. If it is a defining relative clause write DRC if it is a non-defining relative clause write NDRC

DRC or NDRC
1. I don't like the people _____ are staying with the browns.
2. Their house, _____ is near the beach, needs a lot of work doing to it.
3. I like the books _____ make you think about things.
4. Is she the new TV presenter _____ everyone's talking about
5. The swimming pool _____ I use is only open to the public in the morning.
6. The new manager, _____ I met last week, seems to be very friendly.
7. We haven't seen the friends _____ are visiting us this weekend for ten years.
8. The new restaurant, _____ your sister works, serves delicious food.
9. The sales manager, _____ ideas I support, is planning a new advertising campaign.
10. The woman _____ job I'm doing is coming back to work soon.