

LISTENING ABOUT FILMS AND BOOKS

1. Listen to the conversation. Read the sentences and write true (T) or false (F).

1. Pam has read all the Hunger Games books.
2. Oliver has read all the Lord of the Rings books.
3. Pam hasn't seen all of the Lord of the Rings films.

2. Listen again. Complete the sentences with one or more words that you hear.

1. Oliver suggests that they write a review of a film a book.
2. Oliver says that the of the film is sometimes slightly different to the book.
3. Pam isn't the Hunger Games books.
4. The Lord of the Rings books are Oliver's books.
5. Oliver thinks they should go to to get more information.
6. Pam would prefer to write about .
7. Pam and Oliver will meet again in days.

3. Complete the sentences with the words in the box.

audience • critic • customer • narrator • novelist

1. This is very famous; all his books are bestsellers.
2. He works as a film for the local newspaper; he writes three film reviews every week.
3. The clapped and cheered when the pop star came onto the stage.
4. The of this book is a ten-year-old boy; he tells the story of the family moving to a different city.
5. The wanted to buy a new smartphone but the shop didn't have the model he wanted.