You can stand on the spot where Anne Boleyn, one of Henry VIII's 6 wives, lost her head.

You can see famous objects such as the Parthenon Sculptures and the Rosetta stone.

You can see it at Trafalgar Square.

You can enjoy amazing city views stretching 25 miles in every direction.

You can have a journey to the centre of time.

You can see animals from the past and the present, and watch out for the dinosaurs.

You can get up close and personal with celebrities and royalty.

You can see steam trains to space rockets.

You can see an art gallery that used to power the city.

You can immerse yourself in over 3000 years of fashion, art and design.

The National Gallery

The Science Museum

The Tate Modern

The Tower of London

The Victoria and Albert Museum

The London Eye

The Royal Museum Greenwich

Madam Tussaud's

The British Museum

The Natural History Museum

liveworksheets.com