Acting and thinking without worrying about normal social rules.

A city with people from a lot of different cultures.

The state of having people who are from different cultures in one group.

The effect that something has on a person's thoughts or feelings.

Free-spirited Melting pot Impression Diversity