

1. Scientists found groups of fossil footprints. What could this discovery show?

- A. These animals might have lived in the ocean.
- B. These animals might have traveled in groups.
- C. These animals might have lived alone.
- D. These animals probably had large teeth.

2. Scientists found this fossil shell in a desert. What did this tell them about the Earth's history?

- A. This animal used to live in the desert.
- B. This animal used to have legs.
- C. Water used to be where the desert is now.
- D. Mountains used to be where the desert is now.

3. Which animal is extinct?

A.

B.

C.

D.

4. What is a paleontologist?

- A. a kind of tree sap
- B. a tool used to dig for fossils
- C. an animal that only eats plants
- D. a scientist who studies fossils

5. Which is a plant fossil?

A.

B.

C.

D.

