

Why have the people decided to communicate in these different ways?

To start:

Differences and similarities

Question