

Summer 2019

Last summer, my parents and I visited my granny.

She lived in a small village called Moscari.

It is placed near Inca.

Before we arrived there, we stopped at a Petrol Station.

A man needed some help and obviously, we helped him.

My parents and he fixed something in the engine.

They used a strange tool which looked like a robot hand.

They started the engine and it sounded a bit weird.