Read the following narrative

My Summer in Phoenix

My grandmother lives in Phoenix. She moved there 10 years ago, I was only 2 years old when she left Chicago. She had to move to a warmer climate because the winters in Chicago were too cold. She went to her doctor and he said that she could not stay in such a cold climate. She was sorry to leave because she had her family here and her friends. But soon she made more friends in Phoenix.

My mother goes to visit her every winter. I can't go because I have to be in school, but last summer I went for a long visit. I traveled by plane to Phoenix, it was the first time I flew! When we landed, the pilot said it was more than 40° degrees. I thought I had heard the wrong number because I couldn't believe it was so hot.

When I got off the plane, I saw my grandmother right away; we were both really happy. Then, she gave me a big long hug and then we went to get my suitcase.

After that, we went outside and the street was as hot as a desert! We went to the bus stop and the bus came right away. I got on and was so glad it came so quickly because it was air-conditioned. It took about 30 minutes for us to get to her flat. I didn't mind the long ride because it was interesting to look outside the window. People had brown grass because it was all dried out. And they didn't have trees, but they had really big cactus plants.

When we got off the bus, we had to walk three more blocks to her apartment. I became extremely hot again. I asked my grandmother, "How can you live in such a hot place?" "Oh, you get used to it," she said. She was right, after a few weeks, I got used to the hot weather.

I went back home at the end of summer. I told her, "You're lucky you don't go in summer. But it is always great to be with grandma." My mother said, "I miss her a lot. Next time I'll go with you."
