MATCH THE DESCRIPTION TO THE DISHES:

1	Pão de Queijo	—	This snack is a rectangle-shaped thin crust pies with assorted fillings, fried in vegetable oil. The result is a crispy, brownish fried pie. Typical fillings include ground meat, cheese, prawns, chicken with cream cheese and heart of palm.
2	Coxinha	—	It is basically a flan with added coconut flakes. It is either served as a large cake or in tiny mouthful portions.
3	Pastel	—	This snack is made of shredded chicken wrapped up in a gooey, warm dough before being battered and fried. It is crispy on the outside and soft on the inside.
4	Feijoada	—	Much more than just cheese bread. These little puffs are crispy on the outside, squidgy on the inside and filled with cheesy flavor.
5	Quindim	—	One of the most famous Brazilian dishes. It's a pot of black beans cooked with chunks of meat. It's served with fried kale mixed with bacon bits, rice, farofa and a slice of orange.
