BE GOING TO

We use be going to + verb (infinitive) to talk about future plans.

AFFIRMATIVE

I am going to have a holiday next month.

You are going to have a holiday next month.

He / She / It is going to have a holiday next month.

We are going to have a holiday next month.

You are going to have a holiday next month.

They are going to have a holiday next month.

NEGATIVE

I am not going to have a holiday next month.

You are not going to have a holiday next month.

He / She / It is not going to have a holiday next month.

We are not going to have a holiday next month.

You are not going to have a holiday next month.

They are not going to have a holiday next month.

liveworksheets.com

QUESTIONS

Am I going to have a holiday next month?

Are you going to have a holiday next month?

Is he / she / it going to have a holiday next month?

Are we going to have a holiday next month?

Are you going to have a holiday next month?

Are they going to have a holiday next month?

Write sentences about Richard's holiday plans.

Example: He is going to go to Paris.

1. _____ French. (speak)
2. _____ an apartment. (stay in)
3. _____ photos. (take)
4. _____ the Eiffel Tower. (see)
5. _____ crêpes. (eat)

liveworksheets.com

Write the expressions in the correct column.

the Sagrada Familia

on holiday

the sights

shopping

in a bed and breakfast

a show

in a hotel

in an apartment

to the beach

STAY	GO	SEE

liveworksheets.com