

A rainy day

She was bored.

She was sitting quietly when the phone rang.

The rain stopped suddenly when they were playing, but Ann didn't notice.

She was trying to keep herself busy.

When her mum arrived, they had a piece of cake and played a board game.

Then, she decided to bake a cake.

She was preparing the cake until lunchtime.

After lunch, she sat by the window and watched the rain.

Ann was staying inside the house, because it was raining.

First she was reading her book, but the electricity went out.

Her mother was calling to say she was coming home.
