I. Read the following passage.

THREE LITTLE RABBITS

Once upon a time there were three cute little rabbits lived with their mother. One day they came to their mother and said, “ Mother, we are big now.” So we should go out and live by ourselves. The mother agreed and advised them first you build a new house and live together. They leave her mother but they don’t want to live together.

The first little rabbit built his house with hay, the second little rabbit built his house with sticks and the third little rabbit built his house with bricks. Thus the three little rabbits build their houses separately.

One day a big bad fox came to first little rabbit’s house and knocked at the door. But the rabbit do not let in the fox. So the fox huffed and puffed and blew down his house. So the first little rabbit ran to his brother’s house.
