Building an argument: Linking words.
Drag and drop the linking words into the text.

There are several reasons why I don't think reading is a good hobby to have.

_____, I think reading is an antisocial activity _____ it is something people do alone. _____, when you are reading you are not communicating. This means there is no need to speak. _____, when people tried to social network books, it didn't work. _____, you can talk about books with others later. You could _____ argue that reading develops vocabulary and grammar.

_____, reading is and indoor activity _____ it is bad for your health. Too much time indoors reading can damage your eyes. _____, some people say it is good for your mental health _____ it keeps your mind active.

_____, it is an old fashioned way of spending time. _____ the number of people reading on kindle or not reading at all.

_____, I believe that _____ there are some good reasons for reading, it is not a worthwhile hobby.

Because however also so additionally In conclusion thirdly firstly but

Secondly although this is proven by moreover as