Shop work for teenagers

The best way for you, a teenager, to find work in a retail store is to identify the type of store you'd like to work in and simply pay a visit to the store and ask the manager whether he or she has any part-time vacancies. If you have special interests or hobbies you could work in a store which matches your interest, like a book shop, music store, cycle store or clothing store. Of course you could also look for something near your house like a local supermarket or newsagents. You can find job advertisements in your local newspaper, but most teenagers get their first job by just asking what's available.

Most shop jobs will be in sales and, although you'll be expected to have a decent standard of education, all tills are computerised these days so you don't have to be a genius at maths. In fact, nearly all store managers will be more concerned that you are pleasant to other people, you possess good communication skills and you're confident. You may find shop work, in supermarkets for example, where you have to re-fill shelves, or other roles that don't involve dealing with customers, but the vast majority of jobs in retail for teenagers will be in sales, where you're out on the shop floor.

In addition to receiving a wage, many companies also offer staff discounts on items bought within their stores or other rewards, which can be a real plus if you're able to find work in a store which is also related to your hobbies and interests.

The legal age at which you can work in a store in the UK is 14 but there are lots of laws with regard to work and teenagers between the ages of 13 and 18, so make sure you understand what you can and cannot do as well as having some knowledge about your rights.

- Teenagers are advised to go and ask the manager of the store they want to work in whether there are any _____ at their store.
- A music store is an example of a store which might match your _____.
- According to the text, most store managers will want an employee to be educated, to have _____ and confidence.
- As well as wages, employees may get _____ on goods in the store they work in.
- You cannot work in a shop in the UK until you are _____.
