Your Best

If you always try your best
Then you'll never have to wonder
About what you could have done
If you'd summoned all your thunder.

And if your best
Was not as good
As you hoped it would be,
You still could say,
"I gave today
All that I had in me."

The Fox and the Monkey

A fox and a monkey were once travelling together. They were chatting to pass the time, when they fell into an argument about which of them was the more noble creature.

"Of course, of the two of us, I am the grandest animal," said the fox. "I come from a line of brave and highly respected hunters."

The illustration shows a fox and a monkey. The fox is on the left, sitting and looking towards the monkey. It has orange fur with a white patch on its chest and a long, bushy white tail. The monkey is on the right, sitting and looking back at the fox. It has brown fur and a long tail. They are both in a simple, cartoonish style. The background is a light green with a decorative border at the top and bottom.
