

CONNECTORS (OR LINKING WORDS)

A. Write the translation from English to Portuguese.

1. so = _____
2. therefore = _____
3. however = _____
4. in order to = _____

B. Write the translation from Portuguese to English.

1. para = _____
2. mas = _____
3. assim = _____
4. embora = _____

C. Choose the correct option.

1. To write purpose clauses we use _____.
a) "to" or "in order to" b) "but", "though" or "however" c) "so" or "therefore"
2. "So" and "therefore" introduce _____.
a) contrast clauses b) result clauses c) purpose clauses
3. "However" usually comes _____ of a sentence followed by _____.
a) at the end... a stop b) at the beginning... a comma c) in the middle... dots
4. The connectors "but", "although", "though" and "however" introduce _____.
a) contrast clauses b) result clauses c) purpose clauses
5. "to" and "in order to" are followed by _____.
a) a verb in the gerund b) a verb in the infinitive c) a modal verb

3. Rewrite the sentences below using the connector in brackets.

- a) The tickets for the Grand Final of the Eurovision Song Contest 2019 have sold out. We can only go to the Semi-finals. (so)

- b) We had to buy tickets in February to ensure our presence at the Grand Final of the ESC 2019. (in order to)

- c) Salvador Sobral wasn't very popular at first. He won the Eurovision Song Contest 2017. (although)

- d) He participated in the ESC. He would prefer not to be associated with it. (however)

- e) Different bands and singers participate in music festivals. They want to showcase and promote their work. (to)

- f) Conan Osiris won the 2019 Song Festival. He is going to represent Portugal in the ESC 2019. (therefore)

- g) My sister is a huge fan of Conan Osiris. She has never bought a CD from him. (but)

- h) She liked his performance. She didn't like his outfit. (however)
