

Social Studies

My family Tree

A family tree is a type of chart that shows family members and relationships. It is in a tree structure form. A family tree goes downward from the top. The oldest people in the family are at the top and the youngest are at the bottom.

Use the example below and draw out your own family tree.

