1.Order the steps in the process of interaction

1	2	3	4.	5

Nerves transmit this information to the brain.

All living beings detect information from the environment

Animals answer to the orders moving their body or making a change on it.

The brain responds by sending orders to the muscles or glands

The senses detect information.
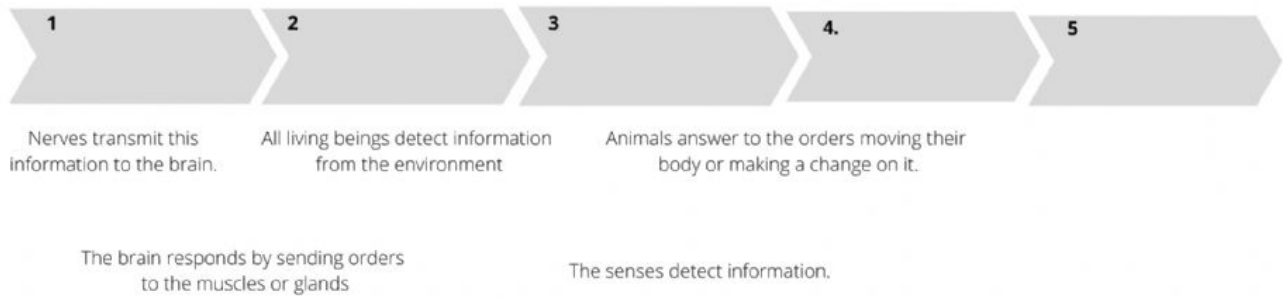

2.Link each system with the function they realize in the process of nutrition.

Digestive system

Respiratory system

Circulatory system

Excretory system

It expells waste products out from the body

It absorbs oxygen and expels carbon dioxide.

It transports nutrients around the body.

It extracts nutrients from the food.