Modal Verbs of Possibility

Move the sentence endings to match with the sentence beginnings

1. It should be John		because John is in Australia at the moment
2. It can't be John		because he said he would be here around now
3. It may be John		because he usually comes round on Saturdays
4. It must be John		because John usually calls us before he comes to our house
5. It might not be John		because he said he might come round sometime this week
6. It shouldn't be John		because I am expecting 5 other guests as well

LIVEWORKSHEETS