Joe's story	Ann's story
Joe loves bikes- especially- looking after them. At 14, he badly needed to get a bigger bike, but his dad had lost his job. So the family couldn't afford to buy him one. He had to think of something else. Joe found two old bikes that were missing some pieces. So he was able to build his new bike- and he did not have to pay anything for it! Since then, he has constructed similar cheap bikes for several friends. He is now thinking this could become a real business when he leaves school.	Ann started helping her mum make biscuits when she was five. Of course, she could not do everything on her own at that age, but she soon became especially good at decorating biscuits. She could make colorful designs that everyone loved. Then her mum helped her to start making cakes- like her brother's birthday cake in the shape of a car. She managed to add lots of details like the windows and wheels and he loved it! More orders followed. Then a cake shop asked her to supply them. Ann was worried about time, but they offered a special arrangement: Ann didn't have to accept all their orders.
