Missing Commas

Choose the sentence written with correct punctuation of commas

1.

a. Lois scowling fiercely turned her back on Clark.
b. Lois turned her back on Clark, scowling fiercely.
c. Lois, scowling fiercely, turned her back on Clark.

2.

a. The sailboat, which looked like a toy in the storm, rounded the point into the breakwater.
b. The sailboat which looked like a toy in the storm rounded the point into the breakwater.
c. The sailboat which looked like a toy in the storm, rounded the point into the breakwater.

3.

a. The palomino, a beautiful horse with almost golden hair is often seen in parades.
b. The palomino a beautiful horse with almost golden hair is often, seen in parades.
c. The palomino, a beautiful horse with almost golden hair, is often seen in parades.

4.

a. Wow did you, see that falling star?
b. Wow did you see that , falling star?
c. Wow, did you see that falling star?

5.

a. Mona said that Amy Tan James Baldwin and Charles Dickens were her favorite authors.
b. Mona said that Amy Tan, James Baldwin, and Charles Dickens were her favorite authors.
c. Mona said, that Amy Tan James Baldwin and Charles Dickens were her favorite authors.

6.

a. The wind shifted, the clouds parted, and the sunlight streamed down.

LIVEWORKSHEETS

b. The wind shifted the clouds parted, and the sunlight streamed down
c. The wind shifted the clouds parted and the sunlight streamed down.

7.

a. Sailing on the Great Lakes can be as challenging adventurous and rewarding as sailing on the ocean.
b. Sailing on the Great Lakes, can be a challenging, adventurous and rewarding as sailing on the ocean.
c. Sailing on the Great Lakes can be as challenging, adventurous, and rewarding as sailing on the ocean.

LIVEWORKSHEETS