Future Continuous

will be + verb+ing

Future Perfect

will have + past participle

This is what these people do every Friday at 4 pm:

John plays football at the club.
Mary visits her grandparents.
Andy works at the office.
Sammy does her homework.
Chris plays videogames in his room.

Tomorrow is a Friday so at 4 pm:

John _____ football at the club.
Mary _____ her grandparents.
Andy _____ at the office.
Sammy _____ her homework.
Chris _____ videogames in his room.

John usually leaves the club at 6 pm.
By 6.30 he _____ the club.

Mary goes home at about 7.
By 7.30 she _____ home.

Andy finishes work at 5.30.
By 6 o'clock he _____ work.

It takes Sammy two hours to do her homework.
By 6.30 she _____ her homework.

Chris usually turns off his game console at 5.30.
By 6 o'clock he _____ his game console.

Put the verbs in the correct form

1. John is going to the party at 10.30, but I will leave at 10 so we won't see each other; by the time he gets there, I _____ (leave).
2. I wish I could stay longer because at about 10 the party will be at its best: everybody _____ (dance) and _____ (have) fun.
3. My boyfriend _____ (wait) for me outside, so I'll just wave and leave.
4. The party _____ (not/finish) by midnight so perhaps we could come back later and stay a little longer.
5. Anyway, by 2 am I will be so tired I _____ (beg) my boyfriend to take me home. But it's only a 20-minute drive so I'm sure I _____ (go) to bed by 3 and I _____ (sleep) soon after that.

LIVEWORKSHEETS