

Cause and Resulting Effect

Directions: For each statement in the "Effect" column, choose a statement from the "Cause" column which might answer the question, "Why?" Write the letter of the cause on the line before the effect.

Effect:

1. _____

1. Sue will be working late all week to catch up.

2. _____

2. She was soaked from head to toe.

3. _____

3. Danny has been saving up all of his money.

4. _____

4. Mom forgot to sign my permission slip.

5. _____

5. Mandy was crying in the hallway.

6. _____

6. I had to borrow one from a friend.

7. _____

7. Tammie ruined her phone.

8. _____

8. He is working late tonight.

9. _____

9. I didn't do my homework.

10. _____

10. We bought her a present.

Cause:

A. Her party is on Saturday.

B. She had a fight with her friend.

C. She dropped it in the washer.

D. I forgot my math book at school.

E. She missed three days of work last week.

F. Jill walked home in the rain.

G. Aaron needs to earn extra money for the trip.

H. He saw a new e-reader that he wants to purchase.

I. I lost my only pencil in the hallway.

J. She has been really busy due to my grandpa's illness.