

Signal Phrases for Non-fiction Sources

In each box, write a signal phrase that would effectively introduce a quote. The writer's last name has been provided for you. Do not use the same verb of saying more than once. Introduce a quote using "that" at least once.

1- Writer: Grossman

_____ "It's never been proven that Lewis Carroll took mind-altering drugs."

2- Writer: Mikkelson

_____ "Hat makers who day after day handled mercury soaked fabric risked mercury poisoning, a condition that affects the nervous system."

3- Researcher: Hesterley

_____ "Forty-three percent of respondents in the survey indicated that they preferred apples to oranges."

4- Writer: Ardagh

_____ "the Mad Hatter's Tea party of Chapter 7 seems to break just about all the rules."