Unusual weddings

Tom and Pat are planning a wedding in London. The unusual place for their special day is the London Eye, next to the River Thames in the centre of the city. There is space for twenty friends and relatives. They get married at the top of the ride, 135 metres above London. On the way down, the new husband and wife can drink champagne and enjoy the view of London with their guests!

Harriet and Leo are going to Canada for their wedding. The location for their big day is the Ice Hotel in Quebec. Everything there is made of ice - the walls, the tables, and the beds too! After the ceremony, you can have drinks in the Ice Bar and a hot meal. The hotel is only open in winter. In the spring, it doesn't close - it melts!

There are hundreds of beautiful wedding places by the sea. But Jack and Lucy's wedding is under the sea. The place is called Jules' Undersea Lodge and it's in Florida in the USA. The hotel is seven metres below the sea, and the only way to get there is to swim! Inside the hotel, there are two bedrooms, and a dining room for the reception.

Ben and Lisa are preparing the invitations for their wedding in the USA next month. It is going to be in Disney's Magic Kingdom in Florida. The plan is to get married in front of Cinderella's Castle.
