Most of us work or study five days a week. It means that there are still two whole days a week for a good rest. But usually we don't even notice how weekends pass by. What should a person do to relax, have fun, and spend time with pleasure and joy? Here are some ideas.

Everyone has their favourite places to go to. But what about those parts of the city you've never been to? Weekends are a great opportunity to sign up for a tour, go to a local museum, or just wander along unfamiliar streets.

However, in the cold season, you do not always want to be outside when it is snowing or raining. But there is a great way out — to gather friends at your place. Just like that, for no reason. And it would be even better to invent this reason: the rehearsal of the New Year, the birthday of the Emperor of Japan, the release of a new episode of your favourite series — any ideas would be suitable.

Many people have a lot of things gathering dust at home that can either be donated to those in need or sold profitably. And now it's time to do it. And while you are sorting things out, you can indulge in pleasant memories.

Days fly by, and you can't even remember what you did last weekend? Maybe you need to arrange a photoshoot? Try to capture every pleasant moment of your life in a photo. And you can also make awesome albums afterwards.

Choose a complex or unusual dish, buy everything you need to cook it and start. Try to decorate the dish as in a restaurant, serve it beautifully. Remember: the weekend is a holiday that is always with you.

Big cities are full of courses and coaches that will teach you anything. And if you don't want to spend money on teachers, you can be patient and learn a new skill with the help of tutorials from the Internet.
