IV. Read the passage and decide whether the following statements are True (T) or False (F).

Doctors in Britain are worried because British teenagers eat lots of crisps, sweets and fast food. Most teenagers don't eat enough fruits or vegetables and more than one million British school children are overweight.

Some teenagers say that they don't have time to eat well, so kids who have a poor diet often have health problems when they are older.

Americans have been familiar with fast food for a long time because it originated there.

American fast food is now a part of life far beyond the shores of United States. Fast food restaurants of McDonald's Pizza Hut and Burger king are popular all over the world.

A steady diet of burgers, fries and soda may seem delectable, but it won't nourish your body with vitamins and minerals you need to stay healthy. Fast food lacks many important nutrients.

Now doctors are giving young people books and games about a good diet. Having a healthy and well-balanced diet can help you feel better and live longer.

8. British doctors don't care about habits of young people.
9. A large number of British school children are too fat.
10. Fast food restaurants originated in France.
11. Fast food restaurants are popular around the world.
12. To keep our body healthy, we need a steady diet of burgers.
13. Doctors are trying to inform teenagers about a good diet.
