

Exercises

1- Fill in the gaps with the adequate word:

- 1- Do not forget to phone John... 'I have phoned him'. (yet, already, ever)
- 2- Have you seen him anywhere? 'I have Seen him in the kitchen'. (just, already, never)
- 3- I have been to Japan... What about you? (yet, never, ever)
- 4- Has Ann just phoned? 'Yes, she has phoned. (ever, yet, just)
- 5- Why don't you read that paper? 'I have read it'. (yet, already, just)
- 6- Has it stopped snowing? 'No, it hasn't stopped snowing (just, yet, already)
- 7- Have you travelled to space? 'Of course not' (never, already, ever)
- 8- Poor lady... She has had a boyfriend in her life! (ever, never, yet)
- 9- I haven't told my parents about my failure (ever, just, yet)
- 10- Would you like a sandwich? 'No, thanks. I have had lunch.' (just, yet, ever)
- 11- Shall I pay the waiter? 'No, I have paid him.' (already, yet, ever)

2- Write these sentences in the adequate order:

1. the I already ironing done have.
2. hasn't yet house she moved.
3. have exam you failed ever an?
4. yet the I States been haven't to.
5. already ironing I finished your have shirt
6. raw not we fish have still tried.
7. up yet mind you made have your?
8. news has he just heard the.
9. yet spoken him you to have?
10. we lunch had have already.