Fun for all

Covent Garden is one of the most popular parts of London. Tourists and Londoners, adults and kids – they all enjoy the great shops, restaurants and cafés, and, most of all, they love the street performers. At Covent Garden, you can see some of the best street performers in the world. There are jugglers, clowns, magicians, living statues, musicians – the list goes on and on!

Before they can perform there, performers have to pass a test (it doesn't cost anything). The shows are free, and performers don't go round and collect money – but most people throw money into the hat! The performers can keep all the money. Sometimes the audience is small but often there are big crowds, and there's a lot of money at the end of the show.

George is an acrobat. He learnt his skills at circus school and then joined a circus and went on tour round Britain. Now he performs at Covent Garden.

'You have to work hard to get an audience,' he says. 'You tell jokes, sing, dance – then when you have a good crowd you can start the show.'

Chantelle plays the violin in an orchestra, but she prefers Covent Garden!

'The crowds are always great here,' she says, 'And the money's better than my orchestra job!'

The wrong suitcase!

Lucy and her parents, Mr and Mrs Field, put their summer clothes and swimming things in their big brown suitcase and drove to the airport. Lucy was excited! She loved going on holiday. When the family arrived at the airport, they showed their tickets to a woman in a blue uniform then got on the plane. Lucy's mother read a magazine, her father slept because he was tired and Lucy watched a film. When they got off the plane, it was warm and sunny.

The hotel was ten kilometres away so they took a taxi there. 'Wow!' said Lucy when they arrived. 'Look at that swimming pool! Can we go swimming now?' 'Not yet, Lucy,' her mother said. 'We have to take our things up to our room first.' When Lucy's father picked up the suitcase, he said, 'That's strange. This feels much heavier than it did before!'

Mrs Field laughed. 'You think that because you're tired! Come on! I've got our key. Look! Our room number is 501. It's on the fifth floor.' They went up in the lift, found their room and went inside. Then Lucy's dad opened the suitcase to take out their swimming things.

'Oh no!' he said. 'Whose red hat is this? Why are these big brown shoes in the suitcase? Whose white sweater is this?'

What a terrible mistake! The family had the wrong suitcase!
