

Gino Tubaro is an argentinian self-taught .
He on October, 6th in 1995 in Buenos Aires, Argentina.
He electronics at Technical School and electronical engineering.
He the "Best young inventor" award in 2008.
And in 2010, he the "Inventive Olympics".
He founded the "Atomic Lab" and he the 3D printed hands. He a 3D printer to make them.
He with Microsoft and Lionel Messi's foundation.
At present he "Manothons" to hand out the prosthetic hands to people who need them for free. He wants to expand his all over the world.

<input type="text"/> project	<input type="text"/> won	<input type="text"/> received	<input type="text"/> invented	<input type="text"/> studied
<input type="text"/> used	<input type="text"/> inventor.	<input type="text"/> collaborated	<input type="text"/> organizes	<input type="text"/> was born

