

Write an essay about the following statement: There should be a law that makes everyone volunteer for something.