

The Estuarine crocodiles of South East Asia are the _____(long) crocodiles in the world. They can be 8 metres _____(long) – as _____(long) as two cars together!

The world's _____(poisonous) snake is the taipan. It lives in the _____(hot) deserts of Australia. It can be _____(long) than 3 metres. Its poison is one of the _____(strong) in the world.

The _____(big) animal on land or in the sea is the blue whale. It is also the _____(heavy). It weighs 150 tons. It is the _____(large) animal that exists.

The bumblebee bat from Thailand is the _____(small) mammal in the world. It is 3 centimetres _____(long) and weighs 2 grams. It is as _____(small) as a butterfly. They do not fly _____(many) than 1 kilometer away from their caves.

The _____(dangerous) animal in the world is the mosquito. It can carry malaria. Every year _____(many) than 1 million people worldwide die from malaria. It is _____(small) than 5 millimeters and weighs _____(little) than 5 milligrams.

The _____(fast) land animal in the world is the cheetah. It can run very _____(fast) – more than 110 kilometres per hour. The cheetah's body is _____(narrow) than the one of a lion with _____(long) and _____(thin) feet.

