We arrived at our hotel in Cortina at nine o'clock at night after a long journey. Cortina is a wonderful winter resort in the middle of snowy mountains in the northeast of Italy. A lovely place for skiers! The next day we got up early to go to the ski shop to rent skis, poles and boots. On this first day, our ski instructor showed us how to walk uphill in skis and how to stop. On the second day, we started skiing earlier and went onto a gentle nursery (for beginners). The next day, we went to a steep slope with our instructor and began to ski faster. We also fell over more often. By the end of the week, some of us were skiing on more difficult slopes. All the group took a selfie with the instructor and our school teacher. We had an enjoyable trip and I really want to thank our teacher, Miss Bright, for organizing it.

1. The text is about a skiing holiday.
2. They bought the skis, poles and boots in a ski shop.
3. They made no progress in their ski lessons.
4. The school teacher was not in the photo.
5. Miss Bright made the preparations for the trip.
