Having a great time on our cycling tour of Provence in the South of France. We  on Saturday after a long journey on the train from London. We'  about 150 km since Saturday morning and I'm exhausted! Danny is tired too, but he's fitter than I am. The countryside is beautiful,  are lots of hills!! The weather  warm and sunny – maybe a little too hot for me. We'  at a different place every night so far. Two nights ago we stayed at a farm, and last night we stayed in a small hotel. Staying in a castle tonight, which is amazing! Tomorrow,  a lake. It's quite a long way from here, in the mountains. We'll stay there all afternoon and go swimming. Looking forward to it!  again in two days.

We've been here for two days. We're staying in a <sup>1</sup> _____ hotel. It was built in the 17th century. The public rooms are very <sup>2</sup> _____, with lots of valuable furniture and paintings. But after seeing those, the bedrooms are <sup>3</sup> _____ – very small and dark. It's not <sup>4</sup> _____ either. It costs much more money than I planned to spend! The location of the hotel is rather <sup>5</sup> _____, so you have to hire a car or motorbike to get to town. Most of the town is very <sup>6</sup> _____. With narrow alleys and old stone houses, it sometimes feels like you're in a film. The main market, though, is extremely <sup>7</sup> _____. You can only buy silly hats, scarves and 'hand-made' dolls. The market and the main square are also very <sup>8</sup> _____. It's almost impossible to walk around because of all the people.

Dear Holly,

Hope you're well. I stayed with my penfriend Cécile in Paris last week. She lives in a beautiful flat near the Canal Saint-Martin. It's a really trendy part of town. At weekends, lots of young people sit by the river, have picnics and play the guitar.

During my stay with Cécile, we saw a mugging in the centre of town, near the Eiffel Tower. A man grabbed a woman's handbag and ran off with it. Straight away, her boyfriend chased after him, but the street was very crowded. Soon, he gave up.

We both felt quite shocked at first, but the woman didn't seem too upset. After a while, we stopped worrying about it and the rest of the holiday was really enjoyable.

Really looking forward to visiting you next week. Are we going camping? What do I need to bring?

Best wishes,

Keira
