

Basic and Fundamental Units of Measurement

Name:

Class:

Instruction: Answer all questions. Watch your spelling.

1. Use the words to complete the passage below by placing them in the correct slots.

Length Own Basic Current Temperature Five Mass

A b_____ quantity is a quantity that has its own unit and is not derived from another.

F_____ examples of basic quantities are M_____, L_____, Time,

C_____ and T_____.

.....

2. Match/ drag the basic quantity beside its correct meaning

Mass Length Time Current Temperature

- a. A measure of the flow of electricity which results from the movement of electrically charged particles
 - b. A measure of the distance between two points
 - c. A measure of the amount of particles in matter
 - d. A measure of the hotness or coldness of a body
 - e. A measure of how long it takes an event to occur
-

3. Which International System of Units (SI) would you use to measure and record the following in?

- a. The mass of a stone
- b. The length of a room
- c. The amount of electricity used
- d. The temperature of some hot water
- e. The time to run 10 meters.

4. Name the basic quantities that the instruments below are used to measure

