Jeremy and his dog Cesar always spend their afternoons outside. Whenever he (1) (be) outside, Jeremy (2) (wear) his dungarees and his old grey shoes. They (3) (sometimes go) for a walk but Jeremy (4) (not run) along very fast, but he (5) (walk) slowly to see all the animals around him. Almost every day he (6) (spot) something new and beautiful: stones in different sizes, flowers and even animals. Since he started his collection, he (7) (already / find) over 100 beautifully shaped stones.

Some days ago, for example, when Jeremy and Cesar (8) (walk) down to the old mill, Jeremy suddenly (9) (see) a squirrel sitting in the middle of the road. Cesar (10) (want) to chase it, but Jeremy (11) (not let) him. Instead he (12) (whisper), "Be quiet, Cesar! Maybe we can find out what the squirrel (13) (do) and why it (14) (sit) in the middle of the road." The squirrel (15) (not do) anything special first, but then suddenly, it (16) (run) away: across the road into the meadow and up a hazel nut bush. "I know what the squirrel (17) (do)!" Jeremy (18) (shout) excitedly. "It (19) (search) for nuts for the winter!" On the same day Jeremy (20) (not find) any new stones for his collection, but he (21) (see) two extremely colourful butterflies, he (22) (observe) a bird of prey high up in the sky and at the old mill he and Cesar almost (23) (catch) a fish with their bare hands. After they (24) (spend) almost all the afternoon at the old mill, Jeremy (25) (think) it was finally time to go back home. When they (26) (walk) back home, the squirrel (27) (still carry) nuts from the hazel bush to its nest.

Today Jeremy (28) (want) to go into the woods. At the very moment they (29) (go) through the backyard. Cesar (30) (run) a few metres ahead and Jeremy (31) (hold) a yellow flower in this hand. How long will it take them to reach the woods? Nobody knows! It (32) (depend) on how many new discoveries they will make today. Jeremy (33) (already / make) some plans: he definitely wants to search for new animals and special stones for his collection.
