

Future tenses

Within the next twenty years, the cost of space travel will be falling / will fall dramatically.

In the near future, it's likely that adventure holidays won't be / aren't going to be limited to remote places on Earth.

People will / may one day have the opportunity to go to distant planets, but first we need to discover a way of travelling faster than the speed of light.

Our 7-day trip is due to depart on 1st December, 2025 and will carry / will have carried you 100 km into space.

I've decided I am going to book / will book a trip into space as soon as I can afford it.

The Americans always said they would fly / will fly to Mars.

Sooner or later people will live / will be living in space.

The International Space Station will have been / will be manned for 14 years in November.

