The Alhambra in Granada

The Alhambra _____ declared a World Heritage Site in 1984. _____ name comes from the color of its walls (Al-Hamra in Arabic) which were made with the clay of the land itself, hence its reddish color. The complex, which requires at _____ three hours to visit, is located on the Sabika hill, _____ to the Darro River. It is mainly made up of the Generalife Gardens, the Nasrid Palaces and the Alcazaba, all constructed in Arab style architecture. From Christian constructions we find the palace of Carlos V and _____ church of Santa María, built on the old mosque. The Nasrid Palaces are grouped irregularly and the different rooms communicate _____ each other through patios or galleries.

The Alhambra is one of the _____ visited monuments in Europe. This, together with the logical access restrictions for conservation reasons, makes it not always easy to get a ticket. To avoid surprises, it is _____ recommended to book in advance and learn _____ the access and organised visits within the monumental complex.
