B1 Reading Part 6 - FREQUENT ANSWERS FOR THE OPEN CLOZE

Articles: a, an, the Determiners: so, such, not, no, this, that, these, those, if, unless, all, every, each

Auxiliaries: should, may, can, could, might, will, would, is, are, was, were, do, does, did, must, ought to

Prepositions: on, at, in, out, up, down, for, with, into, around, about, like, through, over, under, before, after, to, of

Adverbs: always, often, sometime, never, able, since, yet, still, already, just, for, ever,

Relative pronouns: which, who, that, whose, when, where, why, when

Quantifiers: much, many, (a) little, (a) few, a lot (of), some, any, no, plenty (of), none, both, all, either, neither, each, every, (the) other(s), another, little

Comparatives: as, than, more, less, fewer, like

Connectors: however, but, whereas, although, even though, though, while, and, in addition, also, too, for example, like, such as, because, as, since, because of, due to, In conclusion, to summarise, in summary, so, therefore, thus, hence, nevertheless, moreover, when, firstly, secondly, lastly

Example:

The Alhambra in Granada

The Alhambra	declared a World Heritage	Site in 1984.	name comes from the color of its walls (A	Al-Hamra in Arabic) which were	made with the clay of the	land itself, hence its reddish color. The c	omplex, which requires at	three hours to vis	it, is located on to the Darro River. It is ma constructions we find to	Alcazaba, all constructed in Arabhe palace of Carlos V and d Palaces are grouped irregularly er through patios or galleries.	church of Santa M	Iaría, built on the f the visited monu ons for conservation reasons, mak avoid surprises, it is	recommended to boo	ok in advance and learn	the access and organised v	isits within the monumental com-	plex.	