LENGUA EXTRANJERA INGLÉS
PRESENTE PERFECTO

1. Read the following text carefully.

AN EXPERIENCED SURFER

Interviewer: Bruce, you're an experienced surfer. Where have you surfed in the world?

Bruce: Well, I live and surf in England. I surf down in Cornwall, most of the time. However, I grew up in Australia and surfed in Sydney. And I've surfed in Indonesia, in Hawaii and California.

Int.: Now think of three beaches or three places in the world that you've been to, and compare them.

Bruce: Well, Fistral Beach in Cornwall, England, Bondi Beach in Sydney, Australia. And we could say Sunset Beach in Oahu, Hawaii.

Int.: What about the size of the waves between the three places?

Bruce: The three places have very different sized waves. The smallest waves would be in Newquay in England. Sydney would be a medium-sized wave, with surf all year round. And Hawaii is where you get the biggest waves in the world. And especially in Hawaii's winter from December to February you can have absolutely huge waves measuring up to 60 feet.

Int.: 60 feet. What's that in metres?

Bruce: In metres, that's 20 metres.

Int.: 20 metres high. What about the temperature in the three places? Is it very different?

Bruce: The temperatures are quite different. Newquay is the coldest of the three, with temperatures going as low as 4° Celsius. Australia is very warm in summer; you can just wear a pair of shorts. And Hawaii is warm all year round. The water doesn't change more than two or three degrees all year.

Int.: So that's the warmest of the three!

Bruce: That is the warmest, one of the warmest countries to surf.

Int.: So where would you say is your favourite place to surf?

Bruce: Indonesia is probably the best surf in the world. Definitely!

Int.: And where are you going next?

Bruce: My next trip depends on the weather. If there's good surf in Ireland, I'll go and surf in Ireland. If there's good surf in Morocco, I'll go and surf in Morocco.
