

The hungry cat

Poppy, the mouse is reading a book in the living room, when Nina, the cat, comes running.

"I'm so hungry" says Nina.

Poppy gets scared. She and Nina are friends, but Nina gets a bit odd when she is hungry.

"I don't have any food here" answers Poppy.

"Let's go to find some food" shouts Nina.

They go out of the house and start walking. They walk and walk and walk, until they get to a big dark forest.

"I'm not going in that forest. There are many big scary animals there" says Poppy.

"I'm not scared" answers Nina.

Poppy isn't very happy, but she goes with Nina into the forest. They see a rabbit sitting next to a big tree.

"Hello rabbit" says Nina.

"Hello strangers" answers the rabbit.

"We are very hungry and we are looking for something to eat. Can you help us?" asks Poppy.

"I have some carrots and there is a lot of grass in the forest" answers the rabbit.

"Cats don't eat grass" says Nina.

The rabbit gets scared. What if the cat wants to eat him?

"What do cats eat?" he asks.

"Her favourite food is cheese" answers Poppy.

The rabbit is happier now.

"I know a fox that makes very good cheese. Come with me!" answers the rabbit.
