

Frosty the Snowman

Read the text and then click on the correct word in the exercise below.

One day the children built a snowman. It had a corncob pipe and a button nose. It had two eyes made out of coal. It was a jolly happy soul.

Finally, the children put an old silk hat on the snowman andit began to dance around! It was surely a magic hat! They named him Frosty. He could laugh and play just like you and me.

But the sun was hot that day. Frosty said "Let's run and have some fun now before I melt away." He ran to the village with a broomstick in his hand. He ran here and there saying "Catch me if you can!" He didn't stop until a police officer called "Stop!".

Then Frosty began to melt away. "Don't you cry." he told the children. " I'll be back again someday!
