

They went there by plane.

His grandparents welcomed them with open arms.

Last holiday, Hassan and his family visited his grandparents in Kota Bahru.

Hassan saw coconut trees in front of his grandfather's house.

He also saw a goat tied to one of the coconut trees.

They were delighted to see them.

His uncle fetched them to his grandparents' house from the airport.

On the way, Hassan saw paddy fields.

Hassan hugged his grandmother tightly.

He also saw some cows grazing along the road.
