

I'd like to go shopping

Robert: So, what do you plan to do? [blue box]

Anna: Well, I'd like to go. I want to buy some gifts for my family. Where is the best place to go? [blue box]

Robert: Well, would you like to buy? [blue box]

Anna: I'm not sure, exactly. some nice marzipan for my Mum. And my Dad would like some German wine. Is there a supermarket? [blue box]

Robert: Yes, there is, but you should go to the market. It's an indoor market. It's open day. There are some great bakeries and a great delicatessen. You can buy some nice food there. It's better quality than the supermarket. [blue box]

Anna: Okay, that sounds good. And I need something for my sister. [blue box]

Robert: There is a jeweller's near the market. You will find some nice gifts there. [blue box]

Anna: Oh yes, I remember it. Next to the florist's. [blue box]

Anna: Great. And is there a toy? I'd like to buy a game for my brother. [blue box]

Robert: No, sorry, there aren't any toy shops here. But you can buy toys at Hauffman's. That's a department. It's in the centre of town. [blue box]

Anna: Good idea, I'll try that. Oh, is there a pharmacy near? I need some sun cream. [blue box]

Robert: Yes, there's a pharmacy at the end of this street, next to the post

Anna: [blue box]

Robert: can you buy some things for me while you are in town? [REDACTED]

Anna: What do you need? [REDACTED]

Robert: Could you get some chicken for dinner tonight? There's a butcher's in the square at the end of the street. It's opposite the newsagent, where we went. And there's a greengrocer's there, as well. Can you buy some potatoes, some carrots and some apples? [REDACTED]

Anna: No problem. [REDACTED]

Robert: I'll give you some money. Ah - no, I don't have. I need to go to the bank. I can go there later. [REDACTED]

Anna: Don't worry, I'll buy [REDACTED]

Robert: you sure? [REDACTED]

Anna: course. [REDACTED]

Robert: very much! [REDACTED]
