

Zero article

countable plural nouns in general uncountable and abstract nouns
a unique position of a job with proper names, surnames, nicknames before a superlative adjectives in informal speech with the names of holidays, special times of the year, days, months with winter, spring, summer, autumn times of the day and night (midday, midnight, noon)
with means of transport (by bus) and communication (by e-mail)
games

The dog's name is Buck.
In summer I spend much time outdoors.
- Why did you choose this hotel? - It was cheapest.
I contacted her by e-mail.
Cars pollute air.
We met on Monday.
I'd like to get there by noon.
I don't like coffee.
She has been appointed Head of the company.
He has been playing football for 3 years.

Choose the right preposition:

___ Students start ___ school at ___ age of 6.

He has been playing ___ tennis since he was 3.

He used to work as ___ Head of the Sales Department in ___ famous company.

My dog ___ Shtulp is ___ crazy little fellow.

___ Students of this school wrote ___ most beautiful song.

I can't drink ___ coffee without ___ sugar.

He used to work as ___ top manager in ___ famous company.

___ Queen Elizabeth II has been reigning for ___ ages.

What ___ magic atmosphere is created on ___ New Year's Eve!

After ___ accident he wasn't ___ Johnny I had studied with at ___ school.

Mum, I'm gonna brush up for ___ stupid Math test. Bring me ___ hugest plate of ___ burgers.

I can't imagine ___ Sunday morning without ___ coffee.

He suffers from ___ heat in ___ summer and hates ___ cold in ___ winter.

They are so old-fashioned! They contact with their suppliers by ___ fax.