

NAMES:

TOPIC: FUTURE INTENTIONS – BE GOING TO

WATCH THE VIDEO. CHOOSE THE RIGHT ANSWERS

What is Alice going to do tomorrow?

She's going to work in the yard.

She's going to fix her car.

What are they going to do tomorrow?

They are going to clean the house.

They are going to clean the car.

What are his plans? Match to complete the correct statements.

He's going to Library

this afternoon

He's going to his chemistry class

this morning

He's going to a concert with his friends

this evening

What are Mr. and Mrs. Brown going to do tomorrow? Answer the question.

When is he going to wash his clothes?

He's never going to wash them.

He's going to wash them next month

He's going to wash them this week

Are they going to call the plumber?

Grammar section: type TRUE or FALSE

Be going to is a tense that we use for future arrangements.

We use gonna in formal contexts.

We use the verb to be in this tense.